Investment Objective

The Congress Small Cap Growth Fund (the "Small Cap Fund" or "Fund") seeks long-term capital growth.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy and hold shares of the Fund.

Annual Fund Operating Expenses (expenses that you pay each year as a percentage of the value of your investment)	Retail Class	Institutional Class
Management Fees	0.85%	0.85%
Distribution (12b-1) Fees	0.25%	None
Other Expenses	0.35%	0.35%
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses ⁽¹⁾	1.45%	1.20%
Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement	-0.20%	-0.20%
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement ⁽¹⁾	1.25%	1.00%

(1) Congress Asset Management Company, LLP (the "Advisor") has contractually agreed to reduce its fees and/or pay Fund expenses (excluding the expenses associated with the Fund's investment in other investment companies referred to as "Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses," interest expense in connection with investment activities, taxes and extraordinary expenses) in order to limit Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement for the Small Cap Growth Fund to 1.25% and 1.00% of the Small Cap Growth Fund's Retail Class shares' and Institutional Class shares' average net assets, respectively (the "Expense Caps"). The Expense Caps are indefinite, and will remain in effect until at least February 28, 2020. The Agreement may be terminated at any time by the Board of Trustees upon 60 days' written notice to the Advisor, or by the Advisor with the consent of the Board. The Advisor is permitted, with Board approval, to be reimbursed for fee reductions and/or expense payments made in the prior three years. This reimbursement may be requested if the amount actually paid by the Fund toward operating expenses for such period (taking into account any reimbursement) does not exceed the lesser of the Expense Cap in place at the time of waiver or at the time of reimbursement. The Small Cap Growth Fund's net operating expenses may be higher to the extent that the Fund incurs expenses that are excluded from the Expense Cap.

Example

The Example below is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. This Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% annual return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same (taking into account the Contractual Expense Cap for the first year only). Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Retail Class	$127	$439	$773	$1,718
Institutional Class	$102	$361	$640	$1,437

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the Example, affect the Fund’s performance. During the most recent fiscal year ended October 31, 2018 of the Fund, the portfolio turnover rate was 35% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing at least 80% of its net assets (plus any borrowings for investment purposes) in the common stocks of small cap companies. The Fund defines small cap companies as those companies with market capitalizations not exceeding the highest market capitalization in the Russell 2000[®] Growth Index during the preceding 12 months. As of the last reconstitution date, May 11, 2018, the market capitalization of companies in the Russell 2000[®] Growth Index ranged from $7.9 million to $6.25 billion. The Fund may invest any portion of the remaining 20% of its net assets in the equity securities of companies with market capitalizations that may be higher or lower than the range of issuer market capitalizations represented in the Russell 2000[®] Growth Index. The Fund may invest in companies across all sectors of the economy, but may favor companies in particular sectors or industries at different times. The Fund may, from time to time, have significant exposure to one or more sectors of the market. As of October 31, 2018, 25.5% of the Fund’s total assets were invested in securities within the information technology sector. The Fund may invest in U.S. dollar-denominated foreign equity securities, including through American Depositary Receipts (“ADRs”) and Global Depositary Receipts (“GDRs”) issued by U.S. depository banks, which are traded on U.S. exchanges. The Fund may invest in such securities without limit, but such investments are not expected to exceed 20% of the Fund’s total assets.

The Advisor may invest the Fund’s assets in the securities of companies that it believes have a history of growth or that it believes have growth potential. Growth may be measured by factors such as earnings or revenue. The Advisor may invest in the securities of companies with leading competitive positions and management that can achieve sustained growth. Companies with the potential for strong growth may have characteristics such as new products, technologies, distribution channels, strong industry or market positions. Growth stocks may be designated as such and purchased based on the premise that the market will eventually reward a given company’s long-term earnings growth with a higher stock price when that company’s earnings grow faster than both inflation and the economy in general. In selecting investments for the Fund’s portfolio, the Advisor uses fundamental research to evaluate each company, focusing on the company’s earnings growth, return on equity, margin stability, and capital management. These and other factors are then weighed against valuation. A stock may be sold, among other reasons, if it has reached a price target, the issuer’s fundamental outlook has changed, or a better investment opportunity is available.

Principal Investment Risks

There is a risk that you could lose all or a portion of your investment in the Fund. The following risks reflect the Fund’s principal risks:

- Equity Securities Risk: Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases and decreases in value. These fluctuations may cause a security to be worth less than its cost when originally purchased or less than it was worth at an earlier time.
- Foreign Investment Risk: Foreign securities involve increased risks due to political, social and economic developments abroad, as well as due to differences between U.S. and foreign regulatory practices. When the Fund invests in ADRs as a substitute for an investment directly in the underlying foreign shares, the Fund is exposed to the risk that the ADRs may not provide a return that corresponds precisely with that of the underlying foreign shares. GDRs generally are subject to the same risks as the foreign securities that they evidence or into which they may be converted.
- Market and Regulatory Risk: Events in the financial markets and economy may cause volatility and uncertainty and adversely impact the Fund’s performance. Market events may affect a single issuer, industry, sector, or the market as a whole. Traditionally liquid investments may experience periods of diminished liquidity. Governmental and regulatory actions, including tax law changes, may also impair portfolio management and have unexpected or adverse consequences on particular markets, strategies, or investments.
- Growth Style Investment Risk: Growth stocks may lose value or fall out of favor with investors. Growth stocks may be more sensitive to changes in current or expected earnings than the prices of other stocks.
- Large Companies Risk: Larger, more established companies may be unable to respond quickly to new competitive challenges like changes in consumer tastes or innovative smaller competitors. Also, large-cap companies are sometimes unable to attain the high growth rates of successful, smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion.
- Management Risk: The Fund may not meet its investment objective based on the Advisor’s success or failure to implement investment strategies for the Fund.

- Sector-Focus Risk: Investing a significant portion of the Fund’s assets in one sector of the market exposes the Fund to greater market risk and potential monetary losses than if those assets were spread among various sectors.
 - o Information Technology Sector Risk: The information technology sector can be significantly affected by rapid obsolescence of existing technology, short product cycles, falling prices and profits, competition from new market entrants, government regulation, and general economic conditions.
- Small and Medium Companies Risk: Securities of small and medium cap companies may possess comparatively greater price volatility and less liquidity than the securities of companies that have larger market capitalizations and/or that are traded on major stock exchanges.

The “Return After Taxes on Distributions and Sale of Fund Shares” shows the effect of both taxable distributions and any taxable gain or loss that would be realized if a Fund’s shares were sold at the end of the specified period. The “Return After Taxes on Distributions and Sale of Fund Shares” is higher than other return figures when a capital loss occurs upon the redemption of Fund shares.
